Sweetheart Involved With Laramie Matron
Federal Grand Jury Finds Seven Indictments
Made in Camp Kearney Post Office Arrested

Indictments were returned yesterday by the Federal Grand Jury against Mrs. Gladys Irene Winterrowd and James G. Bogie, charged with conspiracy to violate the Mann Act, and Emily V. Kelley and Richard Wilson, for keeping and passing government transportation checks.

Mrs. Winterrowd, 31 years of age, the wife of Dr. E. Winterrowd, Laramie, Wyo., oil man, is charged to have deserted her husband and three children to come to Los Angeles with Bogie to try her fortune at a life before the cameras in Hollywood. They are charged to have been together at Laramie, which place they left last July 30. Mrs. Winterrowd with her children, aged 6 and 9 years, went to Phoenix, Ariz., to visit her mother, Mrs. A. Winterrowd. She is said to have left her children there to apparently disappear, but is supposed to have been in Los Angeles and continued to live in the city.

The frantic mother reported her disappearance to the police. The police were secured when she sent a picture postcard to her 9-year-old daughter, Joan. Police of the Department of Justice then took up the trail. Bogie was also indicted on a charge of passing government transportation checks. It was understood that Mrs. Winterrowd will present a defense stating she paid her own fare to Los Angeles. Bond was set at $5000.

Mrs. Gladys Winterrowd

son of the Secretary of the Treasury, at the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York, where he passed a bad check for $50. He also posed as a Federal officer, according to the agents.

Others indicted by the grand jury were Leonard Arauso, George Bright and Lulu Parish, for violation of the narcotic laws. Bright and the Parish woman were arrested in the Imperial Valley. Bond in each case was set at $5000.

EXHIBIT TO HAVE BROADCAST UNIT

Radio Corporation to Install Complete Station
Regular Programs to be Given Under Call KRCA
F. B. Miller Company Plays Host at KHJ

BY PAUL SHEDDY
The thousands of visitors at the third annual radio exhibition, which will open Saturday at the Ambassador Auditorium, will have an opportunity of seeing a complete broadcasting unit in operation, in addition to seeing in person the favorites they have heard over the air from the important stations of the city.

Word was given out yesterday that the Radio Corporation of America would install a complete 100-watt portable broadcasting station on the auditorium floor in full view of the throngs of patrons and that regular programs would be given at intervals of 15 minutes at regular periods on every day of the show.

The wave length assigned by the Department of Commerce, and sanctioned by Col. Dillon, government radio supervisor for this district, is 265 meters. The call letters will be KRCA. Programs will be on the air from 4 to 5 o'clock each afternoon, and from 9 until 10 o'clock each evening, being followed by the special concert arranged by KHJ and the other city stations, which will be simultaneously broadcast by the four important broadcast units of Los Angeles.

From 3 until 4 o'clock each day tests will be carried on from this broadcast booth through the operation of the United States Army air force. One of the army airplanes will carry a modern War Department broadcast transmitter and receiver. Each afternoon this ship will leave the aviation headquarters at Clover Field, Santa Monica, fly over the city, with communication being maintained with KRCA the entire time the plane is in the air.

Lieut. Victor M. Clark will pilot the airplane, with Lieut. Dean Farran handling the radio sending and receiving on it. Both are regular army aviators. Lieut. Farran's voice will be heard over the receiving sets of the thousands of radio enthusiasts in this territory as KRCA will rebroadcast all of his messages direct from the show booth in the auditorium.

Last night's program from the lower studio of The Times was given as a special courtesy program of the F. B. Miller Company to the thousands of patrons of the station. This automobile firm, known as the home of "Millers service," was warmly congratulated on the excellent concert arranged and the high merit of the artists who participated.

Featured on this fine program were the F. B. Miller string quartet, Uncle Remus, his monologues, Kathryn Thompson, stellar girl saxophonist; Gladys Blackwell, pianist; and Lillian Ariel, accompanist on the piano.

Preceding this concert, given from 8 until 10 o'clock, Dr. Mars Baumgardt, prominent city optometrist and astronomical authority, gave another of his weekly series of lectures on the heavenly bodies, speaking of the giant planet Jupiter and its mysterious moons and colored bands. More than 500 persons last Friday took advantage of his open house at the Clark Observatory to view these wonders of the sky.

SINGER ON NUGRAPE PROGRAM AT KHJ

Elsie Wilson, Soprano
The children's hour last evening was another example of the youthful talent that pervades the city. Dick Winslow, screen juvenile reporter, told of his interviews and visits to places of interest. Baby Muriel MacCormack, the "California Poppy," was there. Thelma Carter, 8-year-old piano pupil of Ruth Behnke; George Kerr, 11-year-old mandolin player, gave musical touches to the hour. Carol Britton, 7-year-old reader, pupil of Winifred Pollard, recited "Ma and the Auto," by Guest, and "Experience." Vivian Marple, the "Blue Bird of KHJ," was another of Uncle John's wonder children that appeared before the microphone. Walter Sylvester Hertzog started the program with another of his excellent talks on history.

The secret of character analysis through personal appearance and psychology was the subject of the weekly talk yesterday afternoon by McMillan Reed. This series has gained wide popularity as it is so different from other matters broadcast by radio.

The matinee program of the Pacific States Electric Company was well arranged, including Raymond Hatton, ukulele and songs. Les Roscoe, the "Rag Man of KHJ," and the Blue Boys Trio, with Arthur Raymond Hill, tenor, giving fine vocal selections.

The thousands of garden enthusiasts in Southern California are taking Fred G. McNabb's weekly talks over KHJ as their main guide in their home plots. When he came to the studio yesterday afternoon as scheduled he was met with another big pile of mail queries from several hundred listeners who submitted their problems to him. The weekly talks, given through the courtesy of the Aggeler & Mueser Seed Company, are among the most popular features of the tower studio.

The Rendezvous Ballroom Orchestra played the noon concert from the studio, giving their hour of dance music through the courtesy of Crystal Beach, Santa Monica.

CHANGE IN CAR ROUTE PROPOSED

Shift in Tracks Needed During Time Civic Center is Being Laid Out

The routing of North Spring street cars through the Broadway tunnel while the new straightened Spring street is being laid out through the Civic Center, was recommended to the Council yesterday by its Public Utilities Committee.

The committee report is expected to be adopted by the Council this morning.

The company will be asked to apply for a franchise for car tracks through the Broadway tunnel from First street to Sunset Boulevard. Chief Engineer Marsh of the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, said that the routing of the cars through the Broadway tunnel was inevitable while the new Spring street is being laid out, as to transfer the tracks through the North Main or North Los Angeles streets would cause intolerable traffic congestion.

High Blood Pressure Nature's Warning of Disaster

Look out for High Blood Pressure! It is not a disease. But it is a symptom, a warning—common in men and women over 45 years old, and frequently found in younger people. High blood pressure often leads to serious diseases of the kidneys and heart, such as Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Apoplexy and other organic trouble.

The blood pressure test is one of the most important made by life insurance companies on applicants for policies. Thousands of people are refused insurance every year from this cause. Of 365 applicants rejected by one company, more than one third developed serious diseases within two years.

If you have cold hands and feet, dizziness, unrefreshing sleep, pressure in the head, constipation, nervousness or headaches—the chances are your blood pressure is at fault. Don't disregard this warning, but send at once for the free booklet "Health," which will tell you about the truly astonishing work that AGMEL has done in relieving High Blood Pressure.

NOT A DRUG—NOT A MEDICINE

Agmel is not a drug, medicine, pill or serum. It contains no alcohol or other harmful ingredients. It is a natural raw food, coming to you as it is made by nature, with nothing added, nothing taken out except water. For hundreds of years, the raw unconcentrated product has been used to relieve troubles of the blood stream, kidneys and digestive organs, and our records show scarcely a single instance of failure to reduce high blood pressure.

The Associated Press is a corporation organized for the purpose of procuring and distributing news and other information to its members and to the public.

SHORT AND SWEET

People never are satisfied. Most of us yearn for a job with bankers' hours, while bankers probably sigh for jobs with miners' hours.

RENTS AND RENTALS

Rents and men's clothing are said to be getting a little cheaper. Oddly enough this may make it unnecessary for some of us to continue having rents in our clothes.

WHY NOT 1927?

The San Francisco girl who was found guilty of manslaughter in killing her mother can't be paroled for a year yet. Why not make her wait till Mother's Day, 1927?

SIGNS OF RECOVERY

Yes, the silly season certainly seems to be about over. People have stopped getting excited about evolution and are giving serious thought as to where and how they are going to spend the winter.

BY THE BOARD

If the Shipping Board and the President are to have a fight the betting on Calvin Coolidge ought to be good. It is certain that the Shipping Board can show no high score on an economy run.

PLACE TO PARK

Department figures indicate that before the season has closed more than 2,000,000 persons will have visited the national parks of the country this year. It does seem that everybody is looking for a parking place.

TIME PAYMENTS

It gives lots of us a stab of jealousy when we see how governments arrange to pay their debts. How many a hard-pressed man would be delighted if all he had to do was to sign up a paper promising that the payments would come from his grandchildren or great-grandchildren 100 years from now.

WOMEN MAY WEAR PANTS

Mrs. Jeanne Briers, dressed like a man, applied for admission to the bar, but a French court refused to examine her. To the superior court she appealed and a unanimous decision has been rendered in her favor. So the ancient joke about women wearing the pants has ceased to be funny in France; it is a perfectly legal privilege.

VALLEY OF IVORY

The natives of Somaliland tell tales of a far-off valley where elephants go to die. It is supposed to be filled with ivory tusks, and Louis Philippe, Duke of Orleans by courtesy and heir to a throne that isn't, is organizing an expedition to loot this elephants' graveyard. But he will have to die first. Zoologists say it would be easier to find the Golden Fleece.

DOPE AND INFANTS

When one reads of the baneful effects of opium upon children one can derive satisfaction that the representative of the United States in the League of Nations has steadfastly opposed the extension of the drug traffic. Lady Wilson, wife of the Governor of Bombay, declares that 98 per cent of the mothers working in the cotton mills of that city dope their babies regularly before they go to work so the children will not awaken during the day and require nursing. As a result the infant mortality of that city amounts to 656 per 1000.

BOOSTING THE PRICE

According to the new California administrator of prohibition the degree of enforcement is reflected by the price list. When Scotch whisky is obtainable at $6 a quart there is little effect to the Eighteenth Amendment. But when it goes to $20 it proves that the bootleggers are being righteously harassed and are fearing the risks. When the price is very high the consumer cannot pay and the nefarious trade is gradually extinguished. The new administrator indicates a purpose to make the booze industry so hazardous that it wares will go into the attic of roses case and be purchased by the drop.

MEXICAN RICHES

Measured by the best estimates obtainable, the wells of old Mexico have produced more than 1,250,000,000 barrels of oil in the twenty-five years in which operation has been active. It is very evident that Mexico has prosperity in her veins and may easily become rich and highly productive. Her oil is but one ale of splendor. The greatest production of oil in any one year in Mexico was about 200,000,000 barrels. The output in the State of California last year was 262,000,000 barrels, which is another world's record—one that may not again be attained in spite of new ventures being entered. Expansion in the Mexican field may be expected, however. There are rich districts that have merely been scratched. There is still a glorious lot of oil in the world and Mexico has a kingly share.

WASTING COSTLY TIME

One of the arguments advanced in support of the new charter was that it would reduce the amount of routine work required of the City Council, leaving the Councilmen time in which to consider comprehensive plans for improving traffic conditions, ways and means of saving the taxpayers' money and other matters of policy. The new charter doubled the pay of members of the City Council with the further hope of securing Councilmen who could use this additional working time in thinking, discussing and then doing something for the betterment of the city.

Alas! The daily amount of routine handled by the Council has doubled during the past few months over the same period last year. For hours the clerk reads and reads and reads, the Councilmen try to keep awake or fume and debate over trivial matters. For this they are each paid $100 a week. Under the present Council procedure the money is wasted. The Councilmen may have some ideas, but there is no opportunity for them to display them. And the clerk reads and reads and reads.

Here is an opportunity for President Workman and City Attorney Stephens to act for the benefit of the taxpayers and put through a reform in Council procedure so that most of the mass of routine communications which are read to the Council can be sent directly to the departments and committees to which the communications are inevitably sent. The Council would then have time in which to consider matters of importance to the welfare, growth and development of Los Angeles.

YOUNG CHINA'S DEMANDS

Early in July a long cablegram signed by the faculty and many of the students of the University of Peking was sent to Senator Borah, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, setting forth the asserted unfairness of the treatment of the Chinese by the foreign powers, stating that they had not kept the promises made at the Washington conference as to tariff provisions and other matters and making other complaints. These intellectuals, representing the school of new ideas in the Orient and generally known as Young China, demanded the abolition of extraterritoriality in their country and asked that the tariff be so adjusted that instead of the duties being fixed at a very low figure and collected by foreigners they would be considerably increased, and China would receive more than a mere dole as its share of them.

Oblivious of the weight carried by the declarations of the chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, Senator Borah sent a personal message to the malcontents in China, approving their demands for the abolition of extraterritoriality and for the abolition of the western powers for their policies toward the Chinese. Some of the American newspapers criticized him for sending this message. It was pointed out that the disaffected element in China could not be expected to draw a distinction between Senator Borah, the individual, and Chairman Borah of the Senate committee.

Then Senator Borah changed front. He contritely explained that he had not intended to urge the immediate abrogation of the unequal treaties with China, that he realized the difficulties in the way of such a reform and that he looked upon the abolition of extraterritoriality as something that might be gradually attained. He said that the powers should work together to assist China in exercising the rights of sovereignty. This explanation satisfied some of those journals which had held that he had usurped the prerogative of Secretary Kellogg in his expression of hostility to the attitude of the European powers. If such expression was necessary, and one journal, the Philadelphia Public Ledger, said that Senator Borah's latest statement of his stand in the matter "should do some good in China."

But the Chinese feel that they now have full American sympathy in their demands, and they are renewing them in no uncertain tones. News from Peking is to the effect that former Foreign Minister Wang Tai-shih has assumed the chairmanship of the Chinese Foreign Relations Committee and that in his opening address he said he was opposed to any policy that would not give China full tariff autonomy. He would insist upon this at the approaching customs conference with the powers and would not be satisfied with a dolo.

As to the question of extraterritorial rights, which lift the foreigners in China above the jurisdiction of Chinese laws, the Chinese are relying mainly upon the good offices of Washington to assist in their abolition. They also count upon Washington to aid in the correction of postal abuses by which foreigners handle the mails and upon other reforms. The Chinese say that what they are now asking for was promised them by the nations in the Nine-Power Pact, but that three and a half years have gone by and these promises have not been fulfilled.

So far as America is concerned, it has ratified its agreement and has shown its readiness to operate fully with other nations in bringing about a better condition of affairs in the Orient. But just how Senator Borah's bitter denunciation of the European powers is going to help our future negotiations with them as to Chinese affairs it is difficult to see. Unhappy China will might pray to be delivered from such tactical chameleons.

GRATUITOUS SLIGHT

Among the women honored everywhere as benefactors of the race—Clara Barton, Florence Nightingale, Marie Curie, Susan B. Anthony, Florence Crittenton, Mary Baker Eddy—none has appeared more closely to the heart of humanity than Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army in America. The magnificent power for good in peace and in war which she has made of her organization in this country will be her enduring monument.

To the people of Los Angeles this tireless leader of ground-floor Christian workers has especially endeared herself. The energy and zeal with which she carried the Salvation Army Congress, held in this city last January, to an unparalleled success created for her a host of friends and admirers throughout Southern California.

The inspiration Commander Evangeline Booth injected into the Los Angeles meetings was duly noted by her assistant, Commissioner Clifford in his cable reports to Gen. Booth of the proceedings. The commander traveled 7000 miles to conduct this congress. She was honored with a civic ## reception by our leading citizens. She gave every address that was given except one and was the magnet to draw the crowd on every occasion.

Assuredly the commander deserved honorable mention from Gen. Bramwell Booth at headquarters for her remarkable achievement at Los Angeles. By orders of the general certain extracts are published from his journal in about sixty different War Cry and publications. This journal is supposed to chronicle advancements in the good work of the army and to accord praise where praise is due. Of Evangeline Booth's success and the rousing, hearty convention held in Los Angeles the general's journal contains but the following meager paragraph:

If the omission of Evangeline Booth's name or any reference to her work here were merely an oversight on the part of Gen. Booth the slight would have been one to call for apology and rectification. But the omission was not an oversight. It has happened too often before. It appears to be the fixed policy of Gen. Booth to discredit (as far as he can) the remarkable work of Commander Booth ever since his plan to remove her from this country was frustrated by the American press and people.

Such discrimination cannot injure Miss Booth in the long run nor detract from the reputation she has made for herself in every American city she has visited. But it can injure the Salvation Army, if persisted in; and the good work of the army is too beneficial to be jeopardized by a jealous group.

EVERYONE MUST WORK

An automobile with its motor hitting on only one cylinder is not likely to get very far. Neither will a wagon drawn by a team of horses make much progress if one horse insists upon backing up while the other does all the pulling. And the same theory holds true of a city in which one-half of the population shares all the burden of civic responsibilities while the other half merely lives for the dollars it can earn there.

The business men and clubs have hit the well-known nail on the head in enumerating the duties we all must share toward making Los Angeles still more desirable. There are those of us who still think that making our money here and saying or thinking a kind thought of our city is enough. It is not.

We must help Los Angeles materially and actively. Not only in building up a better civic government, but by lending both our moral and material support toward getting the high, the fine and the good.

By doing this we can all hold up our heads and say that we are glad to live in Los Angeles and there is no other city like it.

PROSPERITY GAUGED

A study of incomes in the United States for a thirteen-year period beginning with 1909 has been made by the National Bureau of Economic Research. The report of this study shows that, while the purchasing power of the dollar has greatly declined, there has been more than a compensating increase in the prosperity of the people of the country, while at the same time the standard of living has been improved.

From 1909 to 1921 inclusive, according to the report, the nominal gross income increased from $27,000,000,000 to $62,000,000,000—the peak year of 1920 yielding $74,000,000,000. For persons gainfully employed during that period the average in annual income rose from $781 in 1909 to a peak of $1181 in 1920 and declined to $1037 in 1921. Roughly speaking, this shows a practical doubling of the average income. As it hardly could be argued that the cost of living has more than doubled of late years, save in the case of a few food prod-

WHY WORK OR WORRY?

My child, if you yearn, as a star,
To accumulate money and fame,
To hear folks at home and afar,
Shout aloud at the sound of your name;
One way to achieve this ambition of yours—
A high and exalted ambition—
Is to be a good actor, a thing which assures
A fairly well paying position.

But learning to act is a task
One must work at by day and by night,
And which leaves but few moments to bask
In publicity's glorious light.
The manager cares not a rap for your fame,
You are judged by the roles you can handle—
And you're likely to find before long that the game
Is really not quite worth the candle.

A better and easier way
Is to be a great box fighting champ.
Or, if you're a lady, to play
A real life society vamp.
Give people a shock with the things that you do,
Cut up most astonishing capers,
What these happen to be doesn't matter to you—
As long as they get in the papers.

And as soon as you're known far and wide,
The managers all will be keen
To see that you're straightway supplied
With an excellent part on the screen.
Don't think this position is hard to achieve—
Misbehavior for a while and you've won it.
For it's true, though perhaps the judgment may give
That, some hundreds of others have done it.

acts, while the increased cost of clothing is not nearly as much as 50 per cent, it will be seen that in these respects our people are ahead of the game, though when it comes to rents there have been many cases of doubling.

But the bureau has all this figured out on the basis of a norm which represents the purchasing power of a dollar in 1913. On this basis the "real gross income" amounted in 1909 to $28,000,000,000 and that for 1921 to $36,000,000,000, while the annual average for persons gainfully employed rose from $823 to $887. It is estimated that Americans lived over 7 per cent better in 1921 than in 1909. This, to be sure, is no great gain, but it takes a statistical bureau to reduce prosperity to its lowest terms and to make conservative estimates. Less practical though probably as close observers as the people of the bureau would have received the impression that in some western cities, and particularly in Los Angeles, there had been a far greater gain in the matter of living. Certainly as to housing there has been much improvement, though how the gain in that or any other phase of human living can be expressed in percentages it is difficult for the ordinary mind to grasp.

Still the people of the whole country should feel encouraged by this report and be stimulated to new efforts in the field of progress. And there are plenty of evidences of their prosperity beside the citations from the bureau's report, the chief of them being the enormous increase in savings bank deposits.

TWO POINTS OF VIEW
"What is the name of that water weed?" inquired a naturalist of the boatman, who was rowing him across a stream. The boatman shook his head, and the naturalist plied his ignorance. Then the boatman sprang a leak and the boatman asked: "Can you swim?" The naturalist shook his head and the boatman is still plying his ignorance.

"Bella, Bella, Bella"
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It seems very strange that the city of Los Angeles, notwithstanding her institutions already installed for the spiritual welfare of the people, should be so shortsighted as to have forgotten, or failed to appreciate, the inestimable amount of good (and the spiritually uplifting power) bella would have on the minds of people, to a greater or lesser extent, of all kinds and conditions.

The music of bella is incomparably adapted to the great outdoors and is so recognized by all nations. I feel assured there are several broad-minded, public-spirited people of great wealth in Los Angeles able to bestow this blessing on their following. I hope and believe this city, through our representatives in office, will gladly cooperate in this very worthy undertaking with the full consent of the majority of the people for whose benefit it is certainly a boon.

CHARLES E. BOWEN.

Don't Crowd the Driver

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am a constant please publish the following letter. A few months ago an auto was crowded off of the Waterman Canyon road in San Bernardino county by another auto having three people in the front, or driver's seat. One person was killed, another badly injured and the auto guilty of doing the crowding, with the three in the driver's seat, escaped. Several times of late down on the Malibu road and Santa Monica Canyon and near-by sections I have seen other crowded badly by cars with three or sometimes more in the driver's or operator's seat. Now we have a law that no one is even to talk to a motorist on our street cars and in many cities the motorist is penned off into a little private box to himself and our street cars run on tracks, while we saw three or more people in with the operator of our auto. This is very dangerous, for no one can operate an auto or the brakes satisfactorily with more than one extra person in the front or operator's seat. Why not have a law passed not allowing over one person in the front seat with the driver or operator of any auto, except perhaps a child in arms in case of emergency to give aid to some one injured or in distress?

DOCTOR JOHN.

A Horrible Medusa

PASADENA, Aug. 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your cartoonist must be a fanatical prohibitionist. The Medusa picture on the front cover of your Sunday issue is just horrible. He calls all crimes the outgrowth of bootlegging. But bootlegging was created by law, by that inflexible law, the law of impractical prohibition. We did not have any bootlegging and not a third of the crimes of whatever nature before prohibition. Why not regulate liquor by the way? Can't you do that? You can't legislate people to be good—you have to educate them to be good.

FIRING AT RANDOM

BY THE SUBURBANITE

I don't know anything about styles, but this seems to be a year. Not only are lots of dresses trimmed with fur, but most of the others are fur from the ground.

It's all results in elevating the value of the average dress. I think it's been a long time since most of us looked at an ankle.

We used to hear a lot about overdressed women, but we don't see many of 'em nowadays. I got an idea that if Lady Godiva would ride down some of our beaches she'd feel overdressed.

It also seems like the ladies are less decorous now than they used to be. Those that have knock knees or bow legs are positively frank about it.

With no fit to dresses any more, a little of 'em to make, it seems like to me that the dress-makers ought to reduce their rates.

There's one boy in Quiverville who's quit calling "quiver" for "quiver". Since she's bobbed her hair and her skirts he calls her old kid granny.

A PRAYER OF SIMPLE THINGS
Lord, let me love the simple things;
The daisies growing in the grass—
The hum and whirr of busy bees—
The sweet child faces as they pass—
On way to school; my goldfish there
That swims content in crystal
The huckster crying out his wares,
Making the sleeping echoes rouse.

Let my ears love the common sounds;
The mocking bird that sings all night
To his brown mate in dainty nest,
Telling in trill of love's delight;
The hum and whirr of busy wheels
In the tall factory's grim strife,
Where throbs the heart of industry.

Let do false vision fill my mind,
Or day-dream that but burns and sears—
My feet were fashioned for earth's spheres,
My wings will form in future spheres.

LUCILLE EVANS.

OCEAN FOR GIRL

Rescues Young Teacher from Poisons and Sea

No man wants a place in the sun when he has to change a tire. One way to be happy is to realize how little you can do.

The queerest thing about the world is that both cars invariably get into it.

About the only thing reformers never denounce is the custom of prosperity there are more than enough.

One objection to movie kings is that they look too much like the canals.

National prestige: A fiction requires licking some weak point at intervals.

The happiest people are those who don't amount to much and don't give a darn.

No man ever is as nervous as he is proposing as he will be when he is explaining.

The final test of will power is moral courage is refusal to be petitioned.

A man doesn't long for the old days; he just longs for good old ability to enjoy them.

About the only way to get out from everybody is to be in the class or a paying teller.

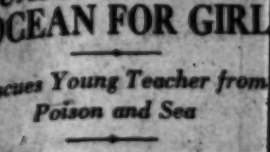

If the fiction characters could be a highbrow magazine.

Sometimes a married woman makes a good wife and often a good husband.

Doubtless the modern-day cranks would change "Well done and faithful servant," to "ta boy!"

One easy way to go to the house is to "sell" your property to the children to dodge the license tax.

St. Louis, came to the attention of juvenile authorities in 1924, when she was taken into the custody of Miss Emma Machman, who has since married.

Kretschman told the authorities, according to the latter, that finding the child, then only a year old, in a vacant lot on Jefferson street.

After conducting a hearing on the matter, the court ordered the child with the Reeds' Home Society and the Children's Home Society of St. Louis. When Mrs. Dismess appeared and made her claim to the child. In affirming her claim, the court had left the girl in the care of Kretschman while she went to the Reeds' home.

It was not until a few months ago she said, that she learned the whereabouts of the child. Mrs. Dismess asked that adoption proceedings be set and that she be given the right of custody.

On handing down his decision yesterday, Judge Vicini, who had made the case under advisement for a month, stated the matter was not in the hands of the court within the time prescribed by the statute of limitations was invoked against Mrs. Dismess's motion.

Mrs. Dismess is Mrs. George Ridge, III, with her husband, George, residing at 1111 N. 10th street.

The interests of the Reeds and the Children's Home Society were represented in the case by Atty. George Hooper.

The machine was driven by a woman, who was arrested by the State Army chaplain stationed at Fort MacArthur, according to reports.

Indian girls on the Glacier Park Reservation pelted their hair with the pale-face fairy misse.

The Times will receive, acknowledge by publication and deliver to the authorized agents of the California Development Association any sum sent to this paper as contributions to the $1,000,000 fund to be raised by the association for emergency and disaster work in stricken Santa Barbara.

The Times has already started the fund with a donation of $10,000 and takes this occasion to urge all loyal Californians, individuals, organizations, companies, etc., to give to the extent of their abilities. The need is urgent. Santa Barbara has pluckily refused eastern help in the belief that California will take care of her own. Let her be not disappointed!

Contributions may be made through any bank or newspaper, the Chamber of Commerce or the California Development Association, Garland Building, Los Angeles. If sent to The Times, checks should be made payable to the Santa Barbara Fund.

WIDENING OF SLAUSON AVENUE REQUESTED

The widening of Slauson avenue to sixty-seven feet from Figueroa street to Central avenue was urged at yesterday's session of the City Council by Councilman Shaw. He asked that the Council, of its own motion, initiate the widening proceeding, without waiting for a petition from property owners. The Council instructed the City Engineer to make a report as to the probable cost and other engineering details of the improvement before starting the street-widening proceedings.

Suicide of two women was reported to the Coroner's office yesterday afternoon.

Rosalie Sigalea slashed her wrists and took poison. Records show that she had applied for county charity the 1st inst. The body is in the morgue.

Discrepancy following a quarrel with a sister was reported to have caused the death of Carrie Nixon, 31 years of age, yesterday in an apartment at 1487 West Twenty-third street. According to Mrs. J. H. Faulsey, coroner's physician, the cause of death was a heart ailment. Miss Nixon telephoned her place in the day requesting that her sister, Carrie, be removed at once. Upon arrival, Mrs. Faulsey found the lifeless body. An arrest was made and the body was taken to the morgue.

The remains are in charge of the Wilshear Undertaking Company.

Organization for Annual Community Chest Fund Drive Under Way

Organization of an Army of 12,000 Workers for the Second Annual Community Chest Appeal, November 9-18, has been begun. Last year Los Angeles gave more than $2,500,000 to support the 125 charities included in the Community Chest, and this year more will be asked for the purpose of extending the charity work. The exact amount will be made known about October 1 with the completion of all audits and investigations and the announcement of budget for the coming year. The youngsters pictured above are all inmates of the Kiddie Koop, one of the many homes for orphans maintained by the Chest. Through money given by the public, these children are clothed and as well as educated. Increased donations this fall will enable the Kiddie Koop and other homes to care for more dependent children in the manner in which they should be cared for.

With Three of Its Principal School Buildings Destroyed in the quake, Santa Barbara has been forced not only to half day classes, but to makeshift accommodations. In the above photo children are shown entering a board and tar-paper school building built upon the foundations of a ruined structure.

A Commander-in-Chief and a Corporal met and exchanged salutes on the parade ground at Camp Devens, Mass., the other day when the C.M.T.C. students passed in review. The one was President Coolidge, and the other was his son John. (P. & A. photo.)
